SIMMONS CHALLENGES CLAIM

Chairman of Senate Finance Committee Admits, However, That the New Tax Will Curtail Trading in Cotton Futures—Average Ad Valorem Duty Carried by Tariff Bill About Twenty-five Per Cent.

Washington, July 5.—"I do not believe the senate will require more than five weeks to complete consideration of the tariff bill," said Senator Simmons, chairman of the senate finance committee. This optimistic view, however, is not shared by his colleagues in the committee or by senate leaders generally. They expect the debate to run along for two months.

The committee perfected an amendment proposed by Senator Pomeroy of Ohio to impose an internal revenue tax of 25 per cent on "spurious wines." In the amendment completed this class of wines is described as those made from pumic, flavoring extracts and other materials fortified with chemicals. The committee also provided in its amendment that the containers in which such wines are carried must bear labels showing the true character of the contents and the ingredients that enter into the manufactured products. This will have the effect of bringing such manufactures within the scope of the pure food law.

The majority of the committee also agreed tentatively on an extension of the date when the wool duties shall expire. The committee, however, declined to make public just what has been agreed on. The suggestion that the date on which the tariff bill shall go into effect will be fixed for Oct. 1 was not adopted by the finance committee. The sentiment disclosed at the meeting of the committee was in favor of having the bill go into effect as soon as it is passed, except as to the few schedules which have been otherwise provided for, among them wool and sugar.

Chairman Simmons expressed the opinion that the average ad valorem duty carried by the new bill as it will be reported to the senate will not be far from 25 per cent, or from 6 to 8 per cent below the average rate of the house bill. It is impossible at this time to make any definite estimate as to revenues because of the uncertainty as to the effect of the new tax imposed on deals in cotton futures.

The cotton exchange men declare that this tax will be prohibitive and will close the cotton exchanges and put an end to that kind of trading, and that consequently there will be no revenue from that source.

"I do not believe this new tax will wipe out cotton exchanges or put an end to trading in cotton futures, although it will undoubtedly curtail such activities," said Chairman Simmons. "I believe we must look for some revenue from this source."

OLD GLORY TRAMPLED

Winnipeg, Man., July 5.—The waving of the flag of the United States here while thousands of provincial soldiers were parading the streets precipitated a riot, during which the flag was trampled and torn and a number of persons received minor injuries. The troops preserved order, but took no part in the demonstration.

GENERAL SICKLES ARRIVING AT GETTYSBURG FOR REUNION IN CARE OF MISS ELEANOR E. WILMERDING

One of the principal figures of the semicentennial celebration of the battle of Gettysburg was General Daniel E. Sickles of New York City, sole surviving corps commander of the great battle, who lost a leg in the fight. He is shown in the picture as he appeared on his arrival at the station accompanied by Miss Eleanor Earle Wilmerding, who has been the general's housekeeper for many years. This is the first picture taken of Miss Wilmerding in recent years. It is because of her presence in the general's home in New York that Mrs. Sickles, who lives around the corner, refuses to return to the general's side. The general has had many troubles recently. The sheriff of New York levied on Sickles' famous relics and household furniture, and he was accused of shortages in connection with funds as chairman of the New York Gettysburg Monument Commission.

JOHN D.'S PEW WRECKED

Lightning at Cleveland Strikes the Euclid Avenue Baptist Church. Cleveland, O., July 5.—John D. Rockefeller, richest man in the world, will have to have a new pew built before he can enjoy his comfort in his church Sundays. A bolt of lightning struck the spire of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church, ripped its way through the roof and demolished John D.'s pew. Several pews in the vicinity were wrecked, but the big hall of fire did no further damage. The lightning flash failed to start a fire. No one was in the church at the time it was struck.

Sought Shelter Under Tree Which Was Hit by Lightning.

Medina, O., July 5.—Two men and a boy were killed and another man was stunned by a bolt of lightning during an electrical storm. Most of the 10,000 people attending a celebration in the fair grounds sought shelter from the rain in the grandstand, but the three men and the boy ran under a tree. Hardly had they gained shelter when lightning struck the tree. The dead, Harry Sayers, a civil war veteran, Medina; John Garr, 50; Medina; Lawrence Gayer, Harveyville.

American Ambassador at London Makes a Brief Speech.

London, July 5.—There was a large attendance at the banquet of the American society here. Walter H. Page, the American ambassador, read his speech from manuscript. He said the old ideal republic has been obscured in the abnormal industrial development, which bent the government to its own uses. The government was more and more used to give special privileges to special classes, "but," said Mr. Page, "the people found this out and set about removing it." They demanded a reduction of the tariff, which is the mother of privilege, he said, the removal of restriction of credit and the dethronement of speculation in the necessities of life.

DUAL TRAGEDY AT COLUMBUS

Harry Knight, Famous Racer, and His Assistant Meet Death in the Great Two Hundred Mile Race, in the Presence of Twenty-five Thousand Spectators—Mullford, Winner of Contest, Smashes Records.

Columbus, O., July 5.—Harry C. Knight, famous driver of automobiles, and Milton Michaels, his mechanic, paid with their lives an attempt to pilot the Rovon special to victory in the third annual 200-mile classic of the Columbus Automobile club, run before 25,000 people at the Driving park, when a new world's record was established as Ralph Mullford pushed the Mason special over the tape for the last time in 3 hours, 21 minutes, 41 seconds.

Michaels, 19, of Cloves, N. M., lived for several hours after he was thrown from the car and died at Protestant hospital. Knight's death was instantaneous.

Harry Knight is known as the hero of the speedway at Indianapolis, where he ran his car into a stone wall to avoid running into a fellow racer, for which act he had been strongly mentioned for a Carnegie hero medal. Knight also won the first of the 200-mile races run on the local track, Sept. 3, 1911, when he drove a Wescott car for first money in 3 hours and 45 minutes.

The accident occurred when Mullford already had negotiated 175 laps. Knight had been out of the race a good deal with engine trouble and probably was 50 miles behind the leader when he rounded into the quarter stretch. There was a terrible crash as the right rear tire let go and a heavy cloud of dust as the machine turned turtle.

Ralph De Palma in his Mercer and Johnny Jenkins with the Schacht special were following hard, and instantly whirled into the sea of dust. Every one who had seen the accident held his breath, wondering what, if anything, would emerge. A moment later De Palma and Johnny Jenkins were seen driving at either side of the track, and as the cloud of dust rolled away two lifeless forms were seen on the course and a wrecked car between them. An ambulance and a wreck crew quickly cleared the track.

The crowd did not learn of the fatality until after the race had been concluded. Mullford's time for 180 miles, then 190, and finally his victory were announced in rapid succession. His unexampled feat of finishing a 200-mile grind on the same tires as those with which he started was the

Regular Army In Impressive

LAST RITE OF CELEBRATION

Five Minutes' Silence Reigns Over the Famous Battlefield, as Flags Come at Half-Mast and a Salute of Forty-eight Guns Is Fired—Veterans of the Blue and Gray Make Dash For Home.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 5.—The regular army paid tribute to the thousands who sleep under the hills of Gettysburg. The big flag before the headquarters of General Liggett, flapping in sudden curves of red, white and blue, glorious in the sunshine of a perfect July day, came slowly half way down the shaft. In front of the tent, shoulders squared, figure trim in summer uniform of white, face toward the flag, the general clicked heels together and stood at attention.

The guns of the Third battery burst into staccato salute. Every officer over the length and breadth of that wide field, every enlisted man turned away from the duties of the moment and faced the flag, heels together, head up and eyes alight with the sentiment of the hour.

As the last gun of the 48 sent the echoes clattering about Seminary Ridge and Round Top there was solemn silence, the hush of peace. Old veterans, who did not realize, perhaps, exactly what was going on stood silent under the spell of the universal feeling that seemed to sweep the field. Then the bugle spoke again, in notes more joyous. The silken flag leaped up the staff to its very pinnacle, and the noises that 40,000 men can make resumed their sway. It was the regular army's tribute to the dead and to the flag of a reunited nation. That five minutes' silence was the last formal mark of the semicentennial celebration.

A short time afterward thousands of veterans who were left began their preparations for departure for home.

President Wilson in his address cited the duties of the people of this day, in view of the achievements of the past, and declared that the freeing of the masses, that all may have liberty and peace and happiness, is the command of the hour.

J. T. Hill of Plain City, O., was overcome by heat and was given attention in an emergency hospital. He may recover.

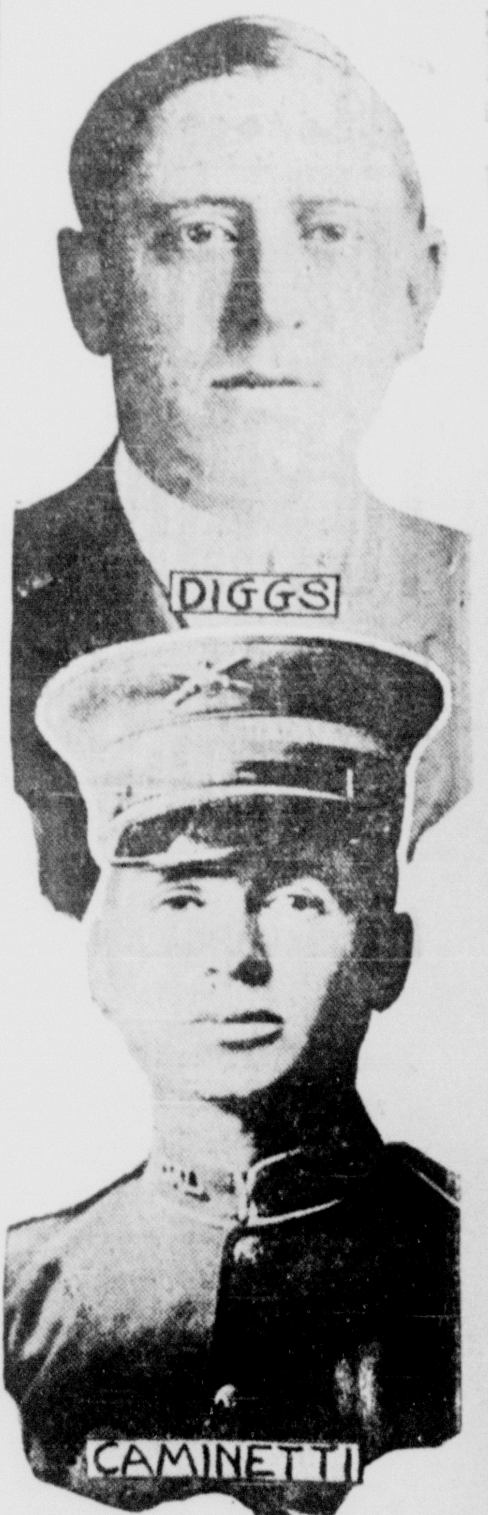

Alfred Tennet of Putnam county, O., found in the hollow of a birch tree a musket he concealed there during the battle 50 years ago. He clasped the old gun to his breast, but it was so badly rusted and decomposed that it fell to pieces. Mr. Tennet said he remembered the tree by its peculiar markings.

Aeronaut Falls 300 Feet.

Bowling Green, O., July 5.—Clarence Crosby, 18, of Toledo, was instantly killed at the fair grounds when his hold on his trapeze was broken while making a balloon ascension before 8,000 people. He fell 300 feet. His skull was crushed, neck and an arm were broken.

TWO PRINCIPALS IN CALIFORNIA'S FAMOUS WHITE SLAVE CASE

These two young married men of Sacramento, Cal., are charged with violating the federal white slave act, and it was the postponement of their case till fall that brought the charges from former United States District Attorney John L. McNab of San Francisco against Attorney General McReynolds. Farley Drew Caminetti, son of United States Commissioner of Immigration Anthony Caminetti, and Maury I. Diggs are accused of eloping with Lora Norris and Marsha Warrington, both of Sacramento, to Reno, Nev., where they were arrested. McNab charged that the department of justice had been influenced improperly to delay the case, and he resigned. His resignation was accepted after President Wilson had received reports on the matter and had directed the attorney general to proceed with the case without further delay. The matter was called to the attention of congress.

THE DETECTIVES FAIL TO SHOW AT TRIAL TIME PROMISE TO COME SOON

All Is Quiet at Court

Attorneys Ulrey and Leach, representing the Law and Order League, say there is no foundation for rumor that men are afraid to come and that Monday will see them here.

PREPARED TO MEET CHARGES WITH THEIR OWN COUNSEL

Burns men can take care of themselves. We represent only the Law and Order League, Columbus attorneys assert—McCoy on hands Saturday to make arrests.

RUMOR NOW SAYS "WOMAN" DETECTIVE IS A MAN

Saturday morning attorneys Ulrey and Leach, of Columbus, arrived in Bloomingburg on the morning train, in connection with the cases to be tried before Mayor Creath, and asked for a continuance of the cases of A. B. Cash and Henry Brown until Monday morning, as the Burns operatives who spent July 4th in Cleveland, sent word that they were unable to be present Saturday, but would be on hands at the appointed hour Monday morning to testify in the cases.

The extension of time was granted and the two attorneys came to this city and spent part of the day with members of the Law and Order League consulting with them, it is claimed, about other charges soon to be filed, and also concerning the charges against Mayor Smith, which have not been filed with Governor Cox.

Chief of Police McCoy was in Bloomingburg during the short session of court Saturday morning, and arrangements had been planned for the arrest of the Burns operatives if they appeared in Bloomingburg, and it is claimed that a number of deputies would have been sent over to assist in the arrests if it had been necessary.

The non-appearance of the detectives gave rise to the rumor that having been alarmed by the charges filed they would not return to face the music.

"The Burns men will be on hands Monday morning," said Attorney Ulrey, "and will probably have their own attorneys to represent them, as we are representing the Law and Order League and not the Burns agency. They will probably be prepared to fight any charges the best way they see fit. The Burns agency is usually capable of taking care of itself."

Meanwhile speculation runs rife as to when the next affidavits will be filed, for what offense and against whom. Interesting developments are expected when Mayor Creath's court convenes Monday morning, and the detectives themselves appear in the roll of defendants in a prosecution.

Preparations are going forward rapidly on both sides and from all announcements Monday promises a regular battery of law suits and prosecutions with the accused at Bloomingburg, the accusers in this city and the accused in this city the prosecutors at Bloomingburg.

Mayor Creath, Attorney C. E. Baughn, of this city, and Chief McCoy clashed again Saturday morning, and some pointed words were exchanged, Mayor Creath taking the opportunity to accuse Attorney Baughn of being in a "frame up" in which the arrest of the detectives was sought while they were under the jurisdiction of the court.

Mayor Creath reiterated his right to protect the detectives from arrest while they were witnesses in cases pending.

The suggestion made at the outset of the disclosures by the Burns detectives to the effect that the much talked of "woman" detective is, in reality, a man, has grown now to the size of a persistent rumor and, with some a belief.

So strong has this rumor become that a great many interested people are now seriously doubting if there was really a "woman in the case" at all. If it has had any effect at all, the rumor has made things more mysterious than ever for those who have busied themselves trying to dig out all the facts.

There seems to be no basis when it comes right down to facts for the belief that the "woman" detective was a man, but in the absence of hard facts speculation and doubt are rife.

PICNIC ENDS IN ACCIDENT GIVES BOND FOR HIS APPEARANCE

Miss Helen Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Baker, met with an exceedingly painful accident Thursday evening, enroute home from a picnic at Lost Bridge.

The Algonquin club of girls were starting home from a merry afternoon picnic, and in crossing the swinging foot bridge, Miss Baker's foot caught in a loose wire. She fell, twisting the ankle so severely that it was dislocated, and one of the bones broken. It will probably be five or six weeks before the ankle can be used.

Facing two charges of issuing illegal prescriptions for intoxicants, Dr. W. A. Harlow has given bond in the sum of $600, $300 on each charge for his appearance before Mayor Creath of Bloomingburg, Thursday of next week.

The charges were made by Burns operatives, and the affidavits filed before Mayor Creath, of Bloomingburg.

COURT'S ORDER IS PROTECTION FOR WANTED BURNS MEN

Men Whom Local Police Officers Journeyed to Bloomingburg to Arrest Make a Dash for Columbus at Close of Court Thursday

CLAIM FIGHT JUST BEGUN
CALL ON CLEVELAND OFFICE

Local Officers Much Put Out at Failure to Make Arrests on Thursday Insist They Will Land the Men.

Thursday evening the local police, who, armed with warrants for the arrest of the Burns' operatives who worked in this city for several weeks, went to Bloomingburg for the purpose of arresting the sleuths, returned home without the men in their custody, being thwarted in the arrest of the Burns men by Mayor Creath who refused to permit the arrests on the grounds that they were under the jurisdiction of his court and they could not be arrested until he was through with them as witnesses.

He did not entirely succeed in securing protection of the men, however, until threats of imprisoning the arresting parties were made for contempt of court. After the trial of Alfred Brown the detectives returned to Columbus by automobile and were not molested in any way. They stated that the charges against them were made for the purpose of retaliation, and also stated that there was no ground to substantiate the charges lodged against them, and pointed out the fact that one of the men then under arrest on charges of bootlegging, Alfred Brown, had sworn to one of the charges. One charge against one of the detectives involved "Fannie Laport", the alleged female detective. The warrants were issued from Mayor Smith's court.

Alfred Brown, charged with illegal selling, was found guilty of the charge after trial before Mayor Creath, and was fined $100 and the costs. The other cases were continued over.

In Columbus the Burns' operatives announced their intention of securing additional help from Cleveland, and making the "clean-up" complete. It developed that during part of the time Thursday afternoon Mayor Creath held court with a revolver upon his desk. It is claimed the gun was not loaded, but this was not known at the time.

The revolver, it is claimed, was taken from a hobo who was placed under arrest at the "burg" some few days ago.

SUDDEN DEATH SHOCKS COMMUNITY

The death of Mr. Carey E. Howland at nine o'clock Saturday morning has shocked and saddened the entire community.

Mr. Howland was taken violently ill without any forewarning symptoms, Wednesday night. Medical attendance hurriedly summoned, found his condition alarming, and showing an obstructed bowel, with gangrene, which included the appendix.

Dr. W. D. Haines was called from Cincinnati and operated Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock, but there had been practically no hope from the beginning and the patient was beyond the reach of medical skill.

Mr. Howland was chief engineer at the Washington Milling Co., and an exceptionally fine young fellow, only 34 years of age.

Interested in every move which affected the betterment of our city and its morality, Mr. Howland was especially active in the work of the Presbyterian church and one of its highly valued members. He assisted in the choir, as violinist, and was devoted to the young people's work of the church.

He also was held in the highest regard by the Milling Co., and business associates and his death is a source of widespread regret. The deepest sympathy of many friends goes out to the young wife, nee Maude Haines, left utterly alone.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the residence. Interment in Bloomingburg cemetery.

HENNESSY PARTY HAS STORMY VOYAGE

The Hennes party of tourists, who left here some weeks ago reached Naples, Italy, on June 26th, all well and happy.

In a letter received from Rev. P. J. Hennessy, who is conducting the tour, he states that the ocean trip was stormy and exceedingly rough, and that they had seven days of rain with no sun or moon to be seen.

"The last few days have been fine and enjoyed by all. We will visit Mt. Vesuvius tomorrow and Pompeii later," he writes under June 26th.

Look Into Coal Conditions

There is a well founded suspicion that the fault for these annual strikes of the miners in the coal fields and the consequent tie-up of work and advance in the price of coal each winter, is not all the fault of the men who wield the pick by the flickering glare of the torch far beneath the earth's surface.

For some time now the regular recurrence of these strikes with the attendant evils has caused the consumers to cast about for a reason.

Coal is a necessary of life and with a scarcity of supply in the cold winter months the price soars to a figure which is practically prohibitive to the poorer classes.

Aside from the lucky strikes in the gold, silver and copper mines the coal mines of the land have been the most prolific source of wealth to their owners of any investment.

If there is any juggling of conditions by the operators for the purpose of precipitating a strike among the miners, it should be ferreted out and punished.

Coal is a necessary of life, and when men gamble with the price of coal they are gambling with life.

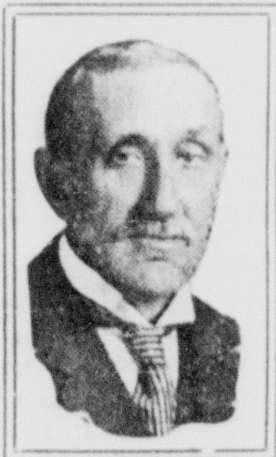

The creator placed the coal in the earth in order that humanity might live and not to be used as a means through which unearned dollars could be extracted from the poor.

Along with the other probes of all sizes and shapes and kinds, it might be well for the federal government to look over the complete line of probes and perhaps one might be found which would reach into the conditions in the coal mine districts and relieve conditions in such manner as to assist the mass of the people in securing coal next winter.

The belief that there is something radically wrong in the coal mine districts is now attaining proportions which entitle it to be classed as more than a suspicion.

New York Lowering Moral

Standard of the Nation

By Dr.
SIMON NELSON
PATTEN
University of Pennsylvania

NOWHERE in the United States are luxury and vice so prominent as they are in the streets and cafes of Greater New York. New York is the Mecca of that portion of the well to do population which wishes to DISPOSE OF SURPLUS WEALTH IN RIOTOUS LIVING.

In New York men spend their earnings on a LOWER MORAL LEVEL than in any other locality in the United States; hence it is that District Attorney Whitman and all of the other agencies working against vice and corruption found a system of commercialized sin which probably has no parallel in the annals of history.

IN ITS LEADING TENDENCIES NEW YORK IS ANTI-INDUSTRIAL AND ANTI-SOCIAL. IT IS NEITHER A LIVING PLACE NOR A BUSINESS PLACE. IT IS A SPENDING PLACE AND A PLACE IN WHICH SPENDING LOWERS THE MORAL TONE OF PLEASURE SEEKERS.

Wealth passes into New York by hundreds of millions and disappears with no return. New York takes a toll on everything that comes or goes, meanwhile giving little in return for what it gets.

Every man in the United States is WORKING HALF AN HOUR A DAY FOR NEW YORK CITY, and New York returns to them only paper securities and a lowered moral standard.

The leaders of New York industry and commerce are staking their fortunes on a population of ten millions. If they win by piling up their industries twenty stories high, if they can induce people to live five hundred, six hundred or seven hundred thousand to the square mile, the land values of New York will increase to ten thousand millions of dollars.

HUMAN MISERY AND DEGRADATION WILL INCREASE IN EVEN GREATER PROPORTIONS, LUXURY AND EXTRAVAGANCE WILL BLAZE FORTH AS NEVER BEFORE, AND NEW YORK, INSTEAD OF HAVING, AS NOW, A TWELFTH OF THE ENTIRE WEALTH OF THE UNITED STATES, WILL HAVE A FIFTH OR A SIXTH. IT IS, HOWEVER, TOO LATE, FOR NEW YORK CANNOT WIN IN THIS VENTURE.

Poetry For Today

"CONSIDER THE LILIES."

They have no care;
They bend their heads before the storm,
And rise to meet the sunshine warm;
They dance responsive to the breeze,
And nestle 'neath the bending trees;
They take whatever life shall bring,
As gaily as the birds that sing.

They do not toil;
Content with their allotted task,
They do but grow; they do not ask
A richer lot, a higher sphere,
But in their loveliness appear,
And grow and smile, and do their best,
And unto God leave all the rest.

They have no sin;
Their sweet bright faces they upraise,
And shrink not from the sun's warm gaze,
And if the world should soil, the rain
Comes down and makes them clean again,
And scented, beautiful and white,
They live their lives in God's dear sight.

They have no tears,
No shadow dims their perfectness,
Their bright, pure lives the world must bless;
Enough have they of cloth of gold;
They lift their cups the dew to hold
God cares for them, with sun and shower,
In royal robes attires each flower,
The Great of earth, with all their case,
Is never clothed as one of these.

We Can Pay

AND DO PAY FIVE PER CENT. ON TIME DEPOSITITS. AMONG OTHERS THE FOLLOWING REASON:

4. Aside from having paid five per cent for over eighteen years, our company takes no risks in making loans, as all our money is loaned only on first mortgage on homes and farms, worth double or more the amount of the loan. Fire and cyclone insurance policies are required. Hence we have no losses to lower the interest paid our depositors. INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

(By John E. M. Kerr.)

Dr. Joseph A. Holmes left Seattle July 5 for Alaska on a coal gathering expedition. The doctor is the director of the Federal Bureau of Mines. He will obtain 1000 tons of Alaska coal which will be tested for navy use on the cruiser, Maryland, now in northern waters. The trip will be made on the steamer Admiral Sampson with 20 men, horses and mining equipment. The coal will be obtained in central Alaska and transported to tidewater by pack train.

Lennox Junction and Balikrain castle in Scotland, were burned this week by suffragettes. The castle mansion, valued considerably over $500,000 was a total loss with the exception of the stables. Situated close to Sterling was one of the show places of that part of the country. The fire hose was found to have been cut with the result that nothing could be done to save the properties.

New York commerce now leads London, Hamburg, Liverpool, Antwerp, Marseilles, Harve, Bremen, Buenos Ayres and Calcutta in the order named. The five ports first, including New York, run over the billion and half mark, the others considerable below the billion volume. New York and London are close competitors.

Plans for a Maranville day at the Boston National League park, are going forward and it is expected to be a big affair. No player who has broken into major league baseball since the day of Ty Cobb came in has proved so sensational as the little Boston shortstop.

It was once thought that tin plate could not be made in the United States, says Opportunity. There were only a few mills at that time and practically all of them failed. One of those that had been shut down stood in a lonely spot in Indiana. Then, driving by at one time, a young Indiana banker saw the mills. He looked into its failure and decided that the fault lay in too light machinery. So he got together capital and bought the mill. Six years later this same man, Daniel G. Reid, owned 30 other mills and was known as the tin plate millionaire.

With the purpose of taking the last step necessary to crush out the international traffic in making opium, cocaine and other noxious and habit-forming drugs, representatives of nearly all the nations of the world are gathered together now at The Hague. The plan of the present gathering is to have the different nations, signing the agreement to take radical control of habit-forming drugs their production and traffic.

Three hundred cases of a brand of golden syrup was seized yesterday by a Deputy United States marshal at a Cincinnati grocery concern. The charge brought by Government Pure Food inspectors is that the syrup, while purporting to be pure cane and maple syrup is 89.5 per cent glucose. It was shipped to the city from Edinburgh, Ind.

The Central Union Life Insurance company has placed on the books $25,000,000 for the first half of the year, 1913. This is an increase of $3,000,000 over the business done during the first half of 1912.

A GLIMPSE BACK THROUGH YEARS

(John E. M. Kerr.)

September 15, 1870.

A bit of history: It is well known to some of our citizens that in the summer of 1865, William A. Ustick, one of the most substantial and energetic citizens of our county, in conjunction with William Harrison, after consulting with some other friends started out on horseback, through mud and mire to solicit subscriptions and donations for the construction of a turnpike on the old toll system from Washington to Mt. Sterling. After struggling through mud and rain and against the opposition which usually presents itself to such undertakings for two weeks or more, and without that encouragement and success that ought to have attended their efforts, they concluded that not only could their purpose be accomplished in another way, but a general system of road improvement might be adopted. Accordingly, one winter's day a meeting was called at the office of Judge Briggs and organized by electing Wm. Harrison chairman and Col. A. C. Johnson, secretary. A report was made of the labors of Messrs. Ustick and Harrison and after consultation and an interchange of thought Mr. A. E. Silcott, one of the most public-spirited merchants in Washington, submitted a resolution, that the Ohio legislature, then in session, should be petitioned for the passage of a law, authorizing roads to be improved by tax. The resolution was adopted and the matter presented to Hon. Mills Gardner, our representative in the legislature by Mr. Ustick, Messrs. Gardner, Harrison, Ustick and Silcott promptly and effectually performed their duty, and the result was a general system of road improvement matured and adopted, under which all our roads have been piked and improved, not only in Fayette county, but all over the state. The magnitude of the accomplishment of these gentlemen, entitle its history to preservation and that those to whom we owe this great work deserve credit and honor in their efforts for and their connection with the improvement of the county.

FIFTY THOUSAND CROWD PUT-IN-BAY

Fireworks and Banquet Close First Day's Celebration.

Put-In-Bay, O., July 5.—A banquet and a display of fireworks last night wound up the first day's celebration of the centenary of Oliver H. Perry's victory on Lake Erie and commemorating 100 years of peace. At least 50,000 people crowded this summer resort despite the hot weather. The ceremony of decorating the graves of American and British officers who fell in battle was impressive. Schoolchildren in white placed flowers and wreaths on the little heap of cannon balls marking the resting place of the six men, three American and three British, while a band played the dead march.

E. S. Griffiths of Cleveland, worshipful grand master of the Ohio Lodge of Masons, laid the cornerstone of the Perry memorial, which is to be erected close to Lake Erie, overlooking the bay. A feature of the celebration was the address of Colonel Henry Watterson of Louisville.

The banquet was a brilliant affair. President John H. Clarke of the Ohio commission acted as toastmaster, and responses were made by Lieutenant Governor Nichols and personal representative of Governor Cox, John Cowan, for the house of representatives; D. E. Mooney for the Ohio senate; Most Worshipful Grand Master E. S. Griffiths, for the Ohio Grand Lodge of Masons; General J. Warren Keffer of the United States centennial commissioners; Timothy S. Hogan, attorney general of Ohio; J. H. Freeland, architect of the memorial; A. H. Sisson, treasurer general of the interstate centennial board, and Webster P. Huntington, secretary general of the interstate centennial board.

IN MILLS YARDS

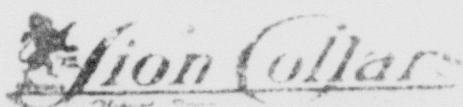

Steuensville, O., July 5.—One hundred and twenty men were taken into the mill yards at the Pope tin plant, where an attempt is being made to operate an open shop. Railroad detectives kept strike pickets away while the men were let off a train at the mill gate. Strike pickets are endeavoring to keep food supplies from getting in to the workmen in the mill yards.

LIGHTNING PRANKS ARE EXTRAORDINARY

Many queer pranks played by lightning in the Tuesday evening storm are reported from adjoining counties, in addition to those in this county.

C. O. Conklin, prominent Greene county farmer was standing within three feet of his horse when the animal was killed by a thunderbolt. He escaped with a small burn on the back. Two other men standing nearby were slightly shocked.

Valentine Wagner, of Ross county, was shocking wheat when the storm came up, and had just left a shock when the lightning struck it and burned it up. Wagner was knocked down but not seriously injured.

Tuesday morning the postoffice at Morrow was robbed. Tuesday evening it was struck by lightning and badly damaged.

In Northern Fayette several wheat shocks were struck and burned. At the Darlington residence, one mile east of this city on the Columbus pike the lightning ran in on the telephone wire, splintered the corner of the house and tore the screen from the front door. Huge balls of fire followed the electric light wires out of this city, burning out fuses but doing very little damage.

THIS POLITICIAN SAYS "STOLEN WIFE" CHARGE IS PLOT TO RUIN HIM

New York, July 5.—Charged with stealing the love of his brother-in-law's wife, Borough President Maurice E. Connolly of Queens must answer to a suit for $50,000 damages filed by Abner G. Halloran. Mrs. Halloran is a sister of Mrs. Connolly. The suit caused a stir in political circles because the borough president said it was a plot to ruin him politically by dragging in a woman's name. The case promises to cause a sensation when it comes to trial.

American Ambassador Spends the Fourth at Vera Cruz.
Washington, July 5.—Henry Lane Wilson, ambassador to Mexico, went to Vera Cruz for the holiday to avoid meeting President Huerta at the celebration of the Fourth at the American colony in Mexico City. Provisional President Huerta was expected to be a guest at the celebration, and in view of the fact that the Wilson administration has declined to recognize Huerta's government it was thought best that Ambassador Wilson should not meet him at the celebration. Accordingly he went to Vera Cruz, where the day was celebrated by Americans in conjunction with officers and crews of the two American battleships at that port.

FRANK M. KENNEDY IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Former City and County Engineer in Fayette Hospital Where Operation Was Performed at Early Hour This Morning—Suffered from Appendicitis in Worst Form.

Frank M. Kennedy, former city and county engineer, is confined to the Fayette hospital in a serious condition as the result of appendicitis, for which disease an operation was performed at four o'clock Saturday morning by Drs. Haynes and Smith, Cincinnati experts.

Mr. Kennedy has been ill for three or four days, but his condition was not alarming until Friday evening, when he took a sudden turn for the worse and an operation was deemed advisable without delay.

When the incision was made it was found that gangrene had set in and that his condition was really more serious than at first thought. He rallied from the effects of the operation, but is in a very precarious condition, although the physicians are of the opinion that he will eventually recover.

Mr. Kennedy has established a wide reputation as an engineer, and has been working on plans for the huge bridges to be erected over the Schoto river in Pickaway county. He has furnished plans for a great many bridges, both public and private in this county, and the first concrete bridge in the county was erected along plans compiled by him.

TRAVELING SALESMAN GETS INTO TROUBLE

Hal Walsh, traveling salesman for the Two in One Shoe Polish, of Buffalo, N. Y., was arrested by Sheriff

Nelson in Chillicothe Thursday and returned to this city Thursday evening to face a charge of failure to pay a $12.00 board bill incurred at the Cherry hotel, where he stopped last month while canvassing this part of his district.

Walsh claimed that the check for his salary failed to come on time and that it was due to the check failing to arrive that caused the trouble. The fact that he left this city nearly 3 weeks ago and has since failed to pay the debt incurred at the Cherry, was taken as grounds enough to cause his apprehension upon a charge of beating his board bill.

He was landed in the county jail at this point and has been there since Thursday evening.

SPEEDING AUTO TAKES TO DITCH

Touring Car Driven by Lawrence Fletcher Wrecked When It Takes Sudden Plunge Into Fence Along Infirmary Farm. While Fletcher Escapes Death in Miraculous Manner—A Fourth of July Joy Ride.

Dashing along at a high rate of speed, a Stoddard Dayton, touring car, driven by Lawrence Fletcher, an employee of the Ortman Garage in this city, left the road while passing the Infirmary farm on the Columbus pike Friday, and after tearing down several rods of board fence landed a mass of ruins, while Fletcher escaped serious injury in the most miraculous manner.

The touring car had been sold to Ernest Crouse, living five miles east of this city, and Fletcher was delivering the car when the accident occurred. Those who saw him state that he was going with the speed of the wind when the car suddenly skidded and in an instant it had struck the fence, mowing down the posts and scattering plank in all directions.

When the machine finally came to a stop in the ditch, Fletcher pulled himself out, badly frightened and bruised somewhat, but not seriously injured.

The machine was rendered almost worthless, the front portion being badly smashed, one wheel broken short off and damaged throughout.

ANARCHY SEQUEL OF RAND MINERS' STRIKE

City of Johannesburg, South Africa, In Hands of Mob.

Johannesburg, July 5.—Anarchy is rampant here as a result of the developments in the strike of the Rand miners. A large part of the city has been for several hours in the hands of a violent mob, and fire and riot hold sway. The troops and police are not strong enough to keep order.

The trouble began with an attempt by the authorities to prevent a demonstration by the striking miners in the market square. Hundreds of mounted and unmounted police and a force of dragoons under General Q'Brien ordered the meeting to disperse. They were met with volleys of stones and bottles. The mounted men then charged and though several saddles were emptied with stones, the crowd was pushed back.

The mob gathered again and attacked the police and soldiers, whereupon the dragoons charged with their swords, using the flat side. Many persons were hurt and one man was trampled upon and is reported to have been killed.

The mob then avoided the troops and spread into the surrounding streets. Some of them compelled the tramwaymen to leave their cars. Others attacked the offices of the main line and wrecked them. The mob raged around the city, smashing windows of stores and looting the places of gunsmiths. They attacked the office of the Star newspaper and set fire to it. The railroad service to and from Johannesburg has completely stopped.

marvel of everyone present. Mulford was out of the race just 40 seconds, when he made a single stop for oil.

Mulford won not only the race and the trophies that go with the cash prize of $1,500, but many other prizes. In making a mile in 53 seconds he lowered the mile track record and he also made a new world's record when he completed 150 miles in 2 hours, 28 minutes and 31.55 seconds.

HIGHWAYMEN, BEWARE!

MRS. ELDER'S GOING TO TOTE GUN IN HOLSTER

New York, July 5.—Mrs. Robert H. Elder wants to tote a gun. She's a suffragette of the American brand of militancy, but that's not the reason. When she followed the example set by Theodore Roosevelt and District Attorney Whitman and applied to Magistrate Corrigan for permission to carry a pistol she explained that it was to protect herself in case of attack. She said that she often rode alone in automobiles with jewelry and money and did not want to be defenseless if held up. "The highwayman who attempts to hold me up will find his match," Mrs. Elder said. "For I pride myself on my marksmanship." "Are you a militant?" she was asked. "Yes; I am," she replied, "but I am not getting a permit to carry a gun because of that, and, furthermore, I want to tell you that it isn't just because I come from a Rocky mountain section that I feel I cannot get along without a gun."

Mrs. Elder said that she did not intend to carry the revolver in a pocket or in her hand bag, but in a holster under her jacket, after the fashion of the women of Colorado. She is a well known New York suffragist leader.

MRS. ROBERT H. ELDER

The American Flag.

Let us, standing "by our fathers' graves, swear anew, and teach the oath to our children, that with God's help the American republic, clasping this continent in its embrace, shall stand unmoved though all the powers of slavery, piracy and European jealousy should combine to overthrow it; that we shall have in the future, as we have had in the past, one country, one constitution and one destiny; that our sons may gather strength from our example in every contest with the despotism that time may have in store to try their virtue, and that they may rally under the stars and stripes to battle for freedom and the rights of man, with our old time warcry, "Liberty and union, now and forever, one and inseparable."—John Jay, July 4, 1801.
